Tay-Tay's transformation!

Meet Tyler Swift! In the self-directed music video for her new single The Man, Taylor Swift introduced the world to her manspreading, cigar-smoking, alpha-bro alter ego – and nearly broke the internet. While the NW-ettes loved the feminist slant of the clip, many fans just thought Tyler was hot. Dude!

Freak of the week

OK, I admit it, I'm a weirdo. The NW-ettes have known this ever since I confessed to a fondness for "bin chooks" (you know, those exotic-looking ibises that rummage through our rubbish?), but they only truly got it when we saw the new pics of Nic Cage out on a date at a graveyard... where he has a crypt ready and waiting (see page 27). Everyone else was gobsmacked by the shots, while I had to admit I'd also once taken a date to a historic burial site. It was a first date. On reflection, perhaps it's not a surprise there was no second date... and that I'm single.

Look, cemeteries are usually really peaceful, and I enjoy all the old-fashioned and unusual names, as well as judging the font choices on the headstones. Some even include morbidly fascinating details on how the person passed away. I once saw a miner's tomb in Queenstown, NZ, where someone (his worst enemy?) decided it was important to point out that he'd "never married" (same, babe) and had died of diarrhoea. Now that's a stty way to go!

And on that charming note, have a great week and enjoy the mag!

SHILOH IS OVER THE MOON!

The teen is ecstatic about welcoming another sister and has been helping her dad shop for gifts for the new baby

Brad & Jen's little miracle BRINGING HOME

BABY!

The couple are one step closer to a bub of their own

Jennifer Aniston can see it clearly. When asked what she's looking forward to in the future, the Friends star replies, "I see the ocean, I hear laughter, I see kids running... That's the joyous snapshot in my head."

Now that picture-perfect scene is so much closer to becoming a reality, with NW learning that she and Brad Pitt are just a few signatures and official documents away from finally giving Jen, 51, the baby she's always wanted.

"They've been talking about trying for one of their own, but the more realistic option has always been adoption," a source tells us exclusively.

Another insider adds, "They've been talking about adopting a little girl. Starting a family of their own was always a dream of theirs that was never realised... until now! They can't wait to finally bring a baby – their baby – home."

And reunited lovebirds Brad, 56, and Jen are so convinced their adoption papers will go through, they've already told his children from his marriage to Angelina Jolie, with big sis Shiloh, 13, the most thrilled about the new arrival – and joining her dad to shop for baby gear.

"Brad has six kids already, but he's so excited, you'd think this was his first bub," reports our source. "He never cared too much about blankets and dummies before, but he's geeking out on all the options now. It's really adorable."

And best of all? He and Jen have already chosen a name!

"They've picked something sweet and simple, with meaning – Georgia," says the insider, explaining it's a nod to their mate George Clooney, "who played an integral part in getting them together".

With their new arrival, everything has come full circle. Fifteen years ago, Brad and Jen's marriage disintegrated after he cheated with Angelina. But when Brangelina crumbled almost four years ago, it paved the way for a shock reconciliation.

Brad slowly but surely worked his way back into his ex's good books, getting sober and showering her with gifts.

"Jen's shocked at how much he's changed," our source says. "He's the man she always wanted him to be. He just needed a little life experience first. Now he has that under his belt, she can't wait to start a family with him." ■

JEN CAN'T WAIT TO START A FAMILY WITH HIM

FRIENDS IN NEED

As if Jen's baby news wasn't exciting enough, the star has confirmed a Friends reunion is finally happening in the shape of an unscripted TV special. While details on the show itself are sketchy, insiders tell NW that Jen and bestie Courteney Cox are acting as unofficial "team coaches" for their castmates, to help them "keep their st together" amid the hype.

"Matt [Perry] is still battling his addictions and David [Schwimmer], who was the most reluctant to sign up, needs constant reassurance," our source reveals. "On top of that, they've all got kids, families and other commitments – anything could go wrong."

Jen recently revealed she still sees children in her future

Witches be crazy!

Ange turns to 'I'll ma a ma

The actress dips into the dark arts to find love

There are romantic dry patches – and then there's desperate and dateless Angelina Jolie, who reportedly hasn't slept with a single soul since dumping Brad Pitt three years ago!

While her ex is back getting busy with his first wife Jennifer Aniston, we're told Ange is fretting that men in Hollywood consider her to be "poison" after she was painted as the wicked witch in her bitter divorce – witchcraft gic up n!"

which is yet to be finalised.

"The guys in LA tend to steer clear of women who could cause them trouble," reports our source. "A lot of people think Angie is intimidating and mean-spirited after what she put Brad through."

Now we're told the despairing Maleficent actress is pulling out all the stops to find love again – even if it means she has to get a little spooky.

"She's been paying late-night visits to psychics and tarot readers to see if it's in her future," reveals another spy. "But

Angie doesn't want to leave it down to the cards or the stars – she's even seeking out crystal healers to help her cast love spells by moonlight. She figures it can't hurt to try. At the very least, she's now got some cool pink rocks on her windowsill."

We're told the 44-year-old mum-of-six is a regular at the House of Intuition – a store selling crystals of all shapes and sizes, as well as love spells, candles and shamanic energy medicine. It's trendy with hipsters living in Los Angeles and recommended by Gwyneth Paltrow's lifestyle blog Goop.

"Angie has been encouraged to try casting a

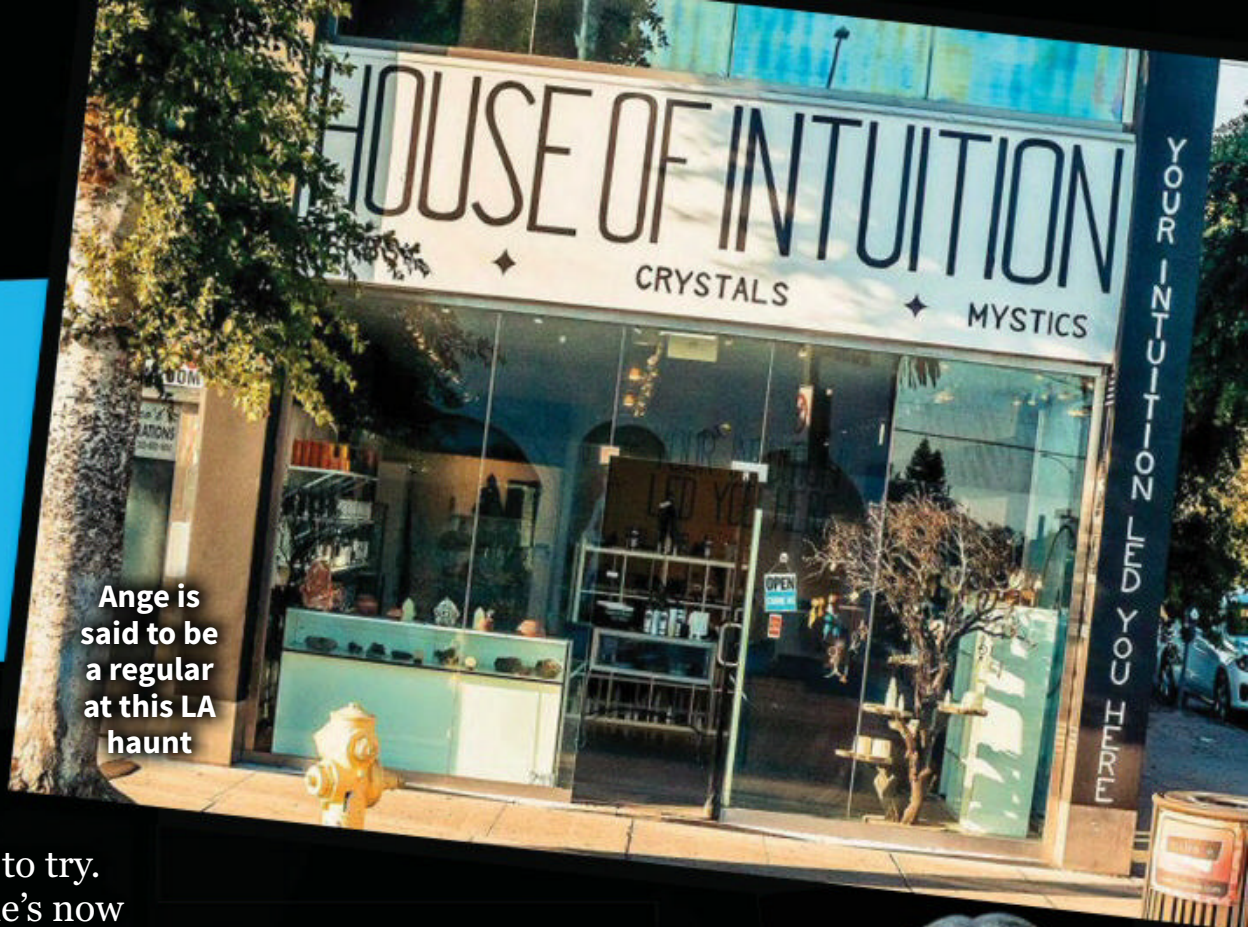

'sweetening spell', which can help bring love to you," claims our mole. "She jokes she's done wilder things back in her goth days, when she wore vials of her lover's blood around her neck. This time, she's simply using honey and rose-coloured candles in her spells."

We're told that the sweetening spell is also often used to fight off negative energy at work – which might come in handy, given Angie was left off the invite list for almost every awards ceremony and party this year, while the rest of her colleagues toasted Brad's success.

Watching him go public with Jen at the SAG Awards from her living room at home was "humiliating" for the actress, our spy says. "She's tired of seeing Brad find happiness when it's been difficult for her to find anyone."

Here's hoping that black magic works, babe! ■

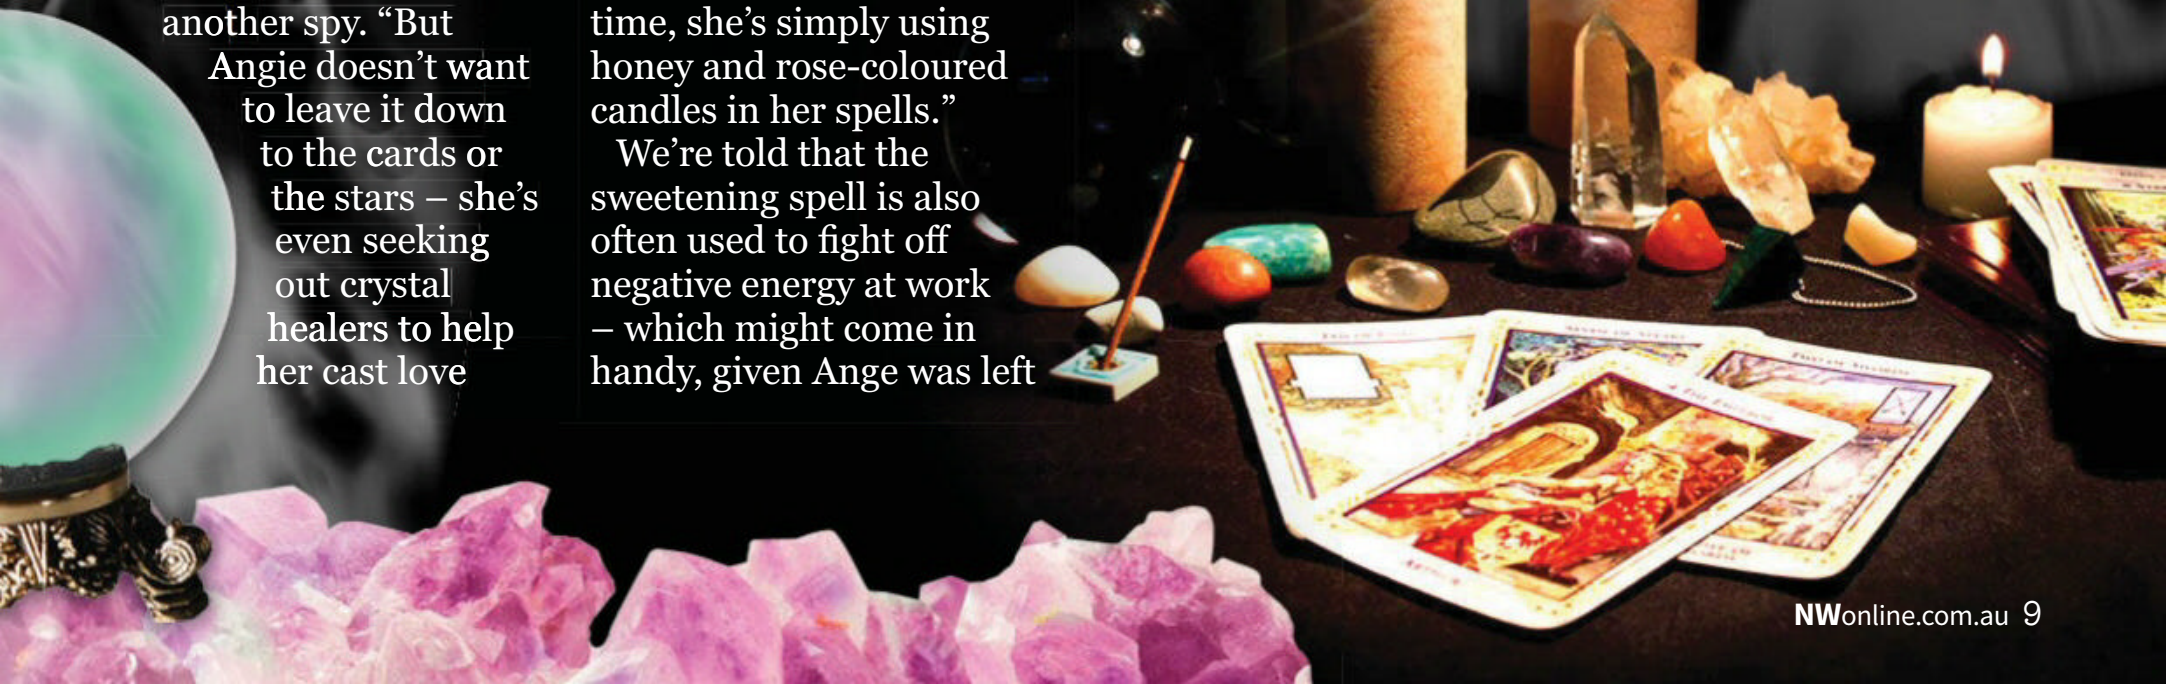

Angie is said to be a regular at this LA haunt

Lizzie admits she went into hiding after filming ended feared having an identical scenario to last year.

Do you mean being paired with another Sam Ball type?

Yes, I was 100 percent worried and nervous that I was going to end up in another Sam Ball situation. I was made to feel insane last year, so when I met Seb, who's this cool, eccentric, out-there guy, but who also seems so great, I thought I'd just have to be careful and keep my cards close to my chest. He definitely had to work hard to prove he wasn't another Sam Ball!

Why do you think you were so guarded?

Because last year I was having things said to my face and other actions were happening behind my back that I was completely unaware of, so this time around my walls were sky-high! I felt like I had a form of PTSD after last year's marriage.

Did you have instant chemistry with Seb? It just felt easy with him straightaway. He really put me at ease. But again, I was so guarded that I couldn't feel the full-blown connection straightaway because I didn't allow myself to.

How was the honeymoon? You didn't get to go on one last season...

It was great! I mean, I actually got a bloody honeymoon! It sounds sad but I was half-expecting not to get one. I never allowed myself to get too excited for fear I'd be let down again.

What are some things you love about Seb? I adore the fact he always sees the positive side of every situation, he always wants to help everybody and he wears his heart on his sleeve – what you see is what you get!

Ooh, sounds serious! Is there anything about him you find annoying?

At first I couldn't stand his humour! He's childish and he lives for dad jokes – he's a goof, basically!

So despite your fears, are you glad you walked down the aisle again? Yes, but I'm still as scared as hell. I became a recluse after filming because I feared the other brides and grooms would turn on me like last time. It's been tough –

I just hope my marriage to Seb makes it worthwhile. Time will tell...

TOO MUCH, TOO SOON!

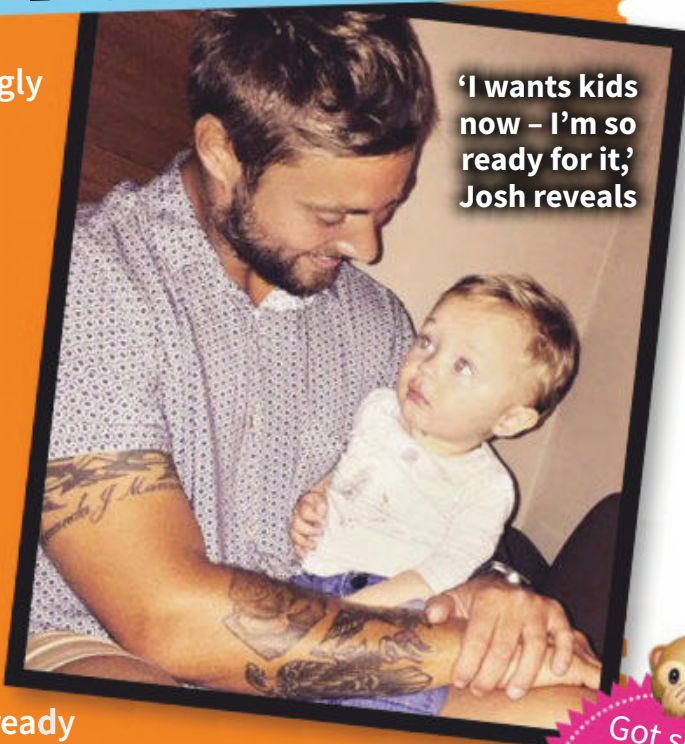

While everything started off swimmingly for Cathy Evans and Josh Philak, it seems to have all unravelled for the pair after multiple tiffs, tears and one scary mother-in-law.

But NW hears the real reason Josh, 28, and Cathy, 27, may be heading for splitsville is because they disagree when it comes to baby talk!

Yep, our source says, "Cathy is feeling pressure from Josh to have a child, but she's not ready!" Eek!

"Josh wants her to fall pregnant this year, but Cathy isn't ready for such a big responsibility yet and it's stressing her out!"

Indeed, it's no surprise that Josh is ready to be a father after admitting he wanted to be a dad since he was 13. "I'm ready to settle down with The One and start a family," he previously revealed. Hope you two work it out!

Another couple appears to have bitten the dust! Uh-huh, while Aleks Markovic and Ivan Sarakula see themselves as being one of the strongest couples in the experiment, NW hears the golden pair are heading for a shock split. Oh, no!

But that's not all. While it looks as though Aleks, 27, wears the pants in the relationship and seems less interested in Ivan, 30, than he is in her, that couldn't be further from the truth, claims our spy!

"We were all out at dinner and Aleks was saying to random girls who were chatting to Ivan, 'Hi, I'm Ivan's wife Aleks and you guys need to leave!' Ivan is getting a bit sick of her controlling behaviour and thinks she's too full-on. She can be really embarrassing and is making him feel uncomfortable when they go out," the source tells.

"He's going to break up with her soon – he just doesn't know how to do it."

Cracks in the pair's relationship began to show early on in the season when the two moved in together, with Aleks revealing that the whole experience was "challenging". As for her hubby Ivan, well he labelled her "lazy".

"I don't think they'll last much longer" a friend spills. "They've both admitted they want to boost their profiles to get endorsement deals. They're doing whatever they can to be successful – and if that means staying together for the cameras, they'll do it." ■

The actress says goodbye to her long-time love

Kirk Douglas wasn't just a Hollywood icon – he was the glue holding his son Michael's marriage to Catherine Zeta-Jones together. And just days after the legend's funeral, sources tell NW that the Chicago star finally got the balls to sit her hubby down for a bombshell announcement.

"I want out," the 50-year-old reportedly told Michael, 75, leaving him "blindsided" and "begging her not to leave", according to a family insider.

After months of back and forth, it was Kirk's death that gave Catherine the push she needed.

"Now that her father-in-law is gone, so is her resolve to stay in an unhappy situation," the source explains,

FLASHBACK!

The stars have been married for two decades adding that their son Dylan, 19, is at uni and daughter Carys, 16, will soon fly the coop too, “so there’s no use pretending anymore”.

No saving it now

Michael and Catherine previously separated in 2013 after he underwent treatment for tongue cancer and she was diagnosed with bipolar disorder. Thanks to hard work and couples therapy, they saved the marriage – but now former problems are resurfacing.

“Counselling helped before, but in the past few years, they let it slide,” says our insider, who adds that they got bogged down by the demands of everyday life – and caring for Kirk. “Their relationship was last on the list.”

Catherine’s now desperate for a fresh start and to “get away from Michael’s self-absorbed nonsense”, says the source, adding that she’d also love to reignite her career. “She wants a meaty role she can sink her teeth into.”

Oh, and she’s also not opposed to dating again. “She’s not looking for anything serious. Catherine 2.0 is ready to have some fun!”

With the kids taking their mum’s side, desperate Michael is giving his wife the space she needs – but he’s not giving up without a fight. “He’s showering her with flowers and love notes, hoping to spark feelings of renewal,” adds our insider.

Might want to pull out all the stops and spring for a nice box of choccies too, Mike! ■

NO USE

Before their 2000 wedding, Catherine reportedly fought tooth and nail to make sure she and Michael signed an airtight prenuptial agreement, with the actress said to score $4.3 million for every year they were married. But with a $100 million property portfolio – including houses in New York, Spain and Bermuda – there’s a lot more at stake should the pair divorce!

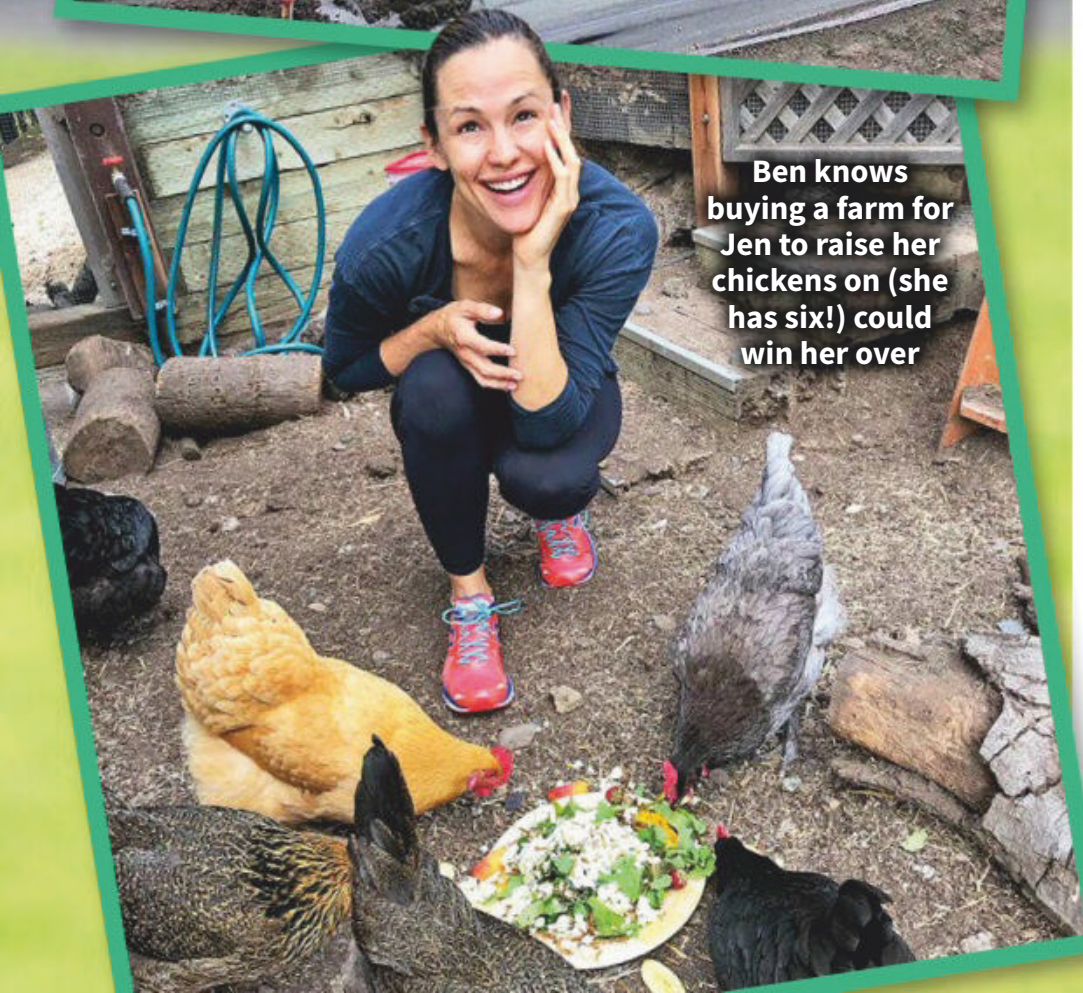

Ben's desperate plot 'MARRY AGAIN,

This is how I roll...

'I am a farmer's daughter's daughter,' the actress says

Ben knows buying a farm for Jen to raise her chickens on (she has six!) could win her over

The star has hatched a plan to win back his ex

By his own admission, Ben Affleck is the epitome of compulsive behaviour. And his new obsession is his wildest one yet – winning back his ex-wife Jennifer Garner!

The actor, 47, has reportedly become so fixated on pulling off a massive declaration of love for the woman who dealt so bravely with his infamous addictions to booze and gambling that he's hatched a cunning plot to get her to marry him all over again.

"Ben is secretly in talks to buy a stunning ranch near Jen's family farm in Oklahoma," an insider tells NW. "She always talked about how she'd love to move back there and Ben thinks that if he can make this happen, she'll fall back into his arms." I mean, who doesn't swoon over corn and cows, right?

Late last month, rehab veteran Ben – who appears to be recovering from the dark days that ended his marriage to Jen, also 47 – described divorcing her as "the biggest regret of my life".

Our source adds, "Ben is all about righting his wrongs with everyone at the moment, especially Jen. He wants to marry her and start all over again, hence the huge gesture."

According to the insider, Ben has zeroed in on a stunning ranch in Locust Grove, where Jen's mum grew up and her uncle still farms produce that Jen uses in her organic baby-food line.

"He wants the ranch to be complete – decorated to her tastes, right down to the tea towels – before he does his big reveal," says our source. "He's going to whisk her there on a private jet, show her everything and then get down on one knee."

Ben has been pouring all that compulsive energy that used to feed his addictions into pulling off the perfect surprise and he's convinced it will work.

"He can picture them growing old surrounded by their kids, grandkids and rolling farmland, and he knows Jen will love it too," adds the source.

"He's telling so many people about his plan that it won't be a secret by the time the house is bought and finished. He's a man obsessed."

Fingers crossed for you, farmer Ben! ■

BEN'S EX FILES: A FLING WITH LILO!

Ben's hopes for a romantic reunion with Jen could be derailed by shocking new rumours of an affair with Lindsay Lohan, 33, of all people.

Hollywood is ablaze with gossip the pair enjoyed a fling 18 months ago – and it wasn't the first time they've hooked up! "She was partying with Leonardo DiCaprio, Ben and all those big actor guys in 2011," a Tinseltown source spills. "Lilo was pretty much chewed up and spat out. It's why she ended up in rehab in 2013 – and Ben visited her there. They've got a lot of history those two... they're like peas in a party pod." Sounds, er, seedy!

STRANGLING

KIM KARDASHIAN & NICK CANNON

Although the reality star's tried to erase it from her memory, Nick, 39, won't ever let people forget about how he dumped Kim, 39, back in 2007 – while she was still only known for being Paris Hilton's assistant – after she denied the existence of her infamous sex tape. “If she might have been honest with me, I might have tried to hold her down,” he tells.

PETER ANDRE & MEL B

The Spice Girl, 44, is known for her loose lips when it comes to her exes, previously describing Peter, 46, as her “booty call” and a “fantastic lover”. “He was so polite,” Mel reveals. “He’d ask before he kissed me!” Peter, on the other hand, has tried to keep a dignified silence on the pair’s fling, calling Scary a “friend for life” instead.

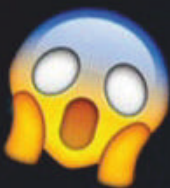

You were

KATY PERRY & RUSSELL BRAND

The singer and the comedian fell hard while rehearsing for the MTV Video Music Awards in 2009 and tied the knot a year later at a tiger sanctuary in India. Then self-confessed drug and sex addict Russell, 44, texted Katy, 35, on New Year's Eve 2011 to tell her he wanted a divorce. Rude!

Blink and you would've missed these celeb pairings...

NICOLE KIDMAN & LENNY KRAVITZ

Their 2003 engagement was kept mostly under wraps – that is, until Nicole, 52, let it slip in 2017 while talking about working with the 55-year-old rocker's daughter Zoe on Big Little Lies. "I knew Zoe because I was engaged to her father," she spilled. "It's all in the family! I love Lenny – he's a great guy."

We got up to some frisky business

He was my top guy...

TOM CRUISE & CHER

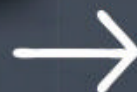

An unlikely duo to say the least, Cher started dating a young Tom in the '80s after they met at Sean Penn and Madonna's wedding. "It was pretty hot and heavy for a little minute," the singer – who is 16 years older than the actor – explains. Cher, 73, even ranked the Top Gun star, 57, in her top five lovers!

CHERYL & LIAM PAYNE

These two first met in 2009 when a 14-year-old Liam auditioned on The X Factor and Cheryl was on the judging panel. Once the wannabe popstar had gone on to achieve musical success with One Direction – and, er, grow into an adult – the pair reunited in 2015, dated for two years and now co-parent their son Bear, two. "Becoming a dad at such a young age, I think it spooked me out early on," Liam, 26, says of the 2018 split with his baby mama, 36.

My life was headed in another Direction

STRANGER FLINGS

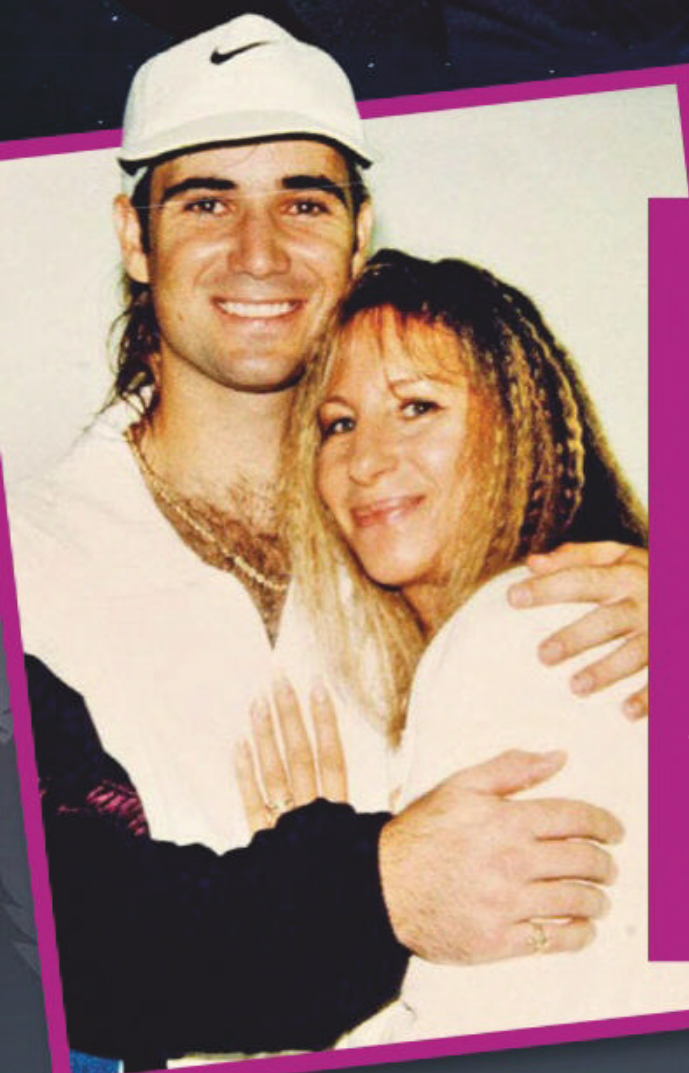

BRAD PITT & SINITTA

She might be best known now for her outrageous outfits and '80s tunes, but Sinitta once made headlines for her romance with a young Brad! "He was beautiful with the most amazing body," Sinitta, 56, tells of her former beau, also 56. "I saw him for two years. He was fun, he was young and very sweet."

ALANIS MORISSETTE & RYAN REYNOLDS

Long before his marriages to ex Scarlett Johansson and current wife Blake Lively, Ryan was engaged to fellow Canadian Alanis! The singer, 45, and the actor, 43, met at Drew Barrymore's birthday party in 2002 and were together for five years before splitting – after which an Alanis break-up album naturally hit the charts.

ANDRE AGASSI & BARBRA STREISAND

It was love all for the former tennis world number one and the singer – who had an unlikely affair back in the '90s. Despite their 28-year age difference, Andre, 49, was clearly wowed by the star. "Dating Barbra Streisand is like wearing hot lava," Andre says of the now 77-year-old. Sounds, um, hot...

LEONARDO DICAPRIO & WHITNEY PORT

Back in 2009, the Hills star, 34, turned down a one-night stand with the Oscar winner, 45. After texting for six months, Leo asked Whit to join him at an LA nightclub. "He invited me back over to his house and I said no," she confesses. "I was way too nervous! It's really one of my biggest regrets in life. He never spoke to me again."

JAKE GYLLENHAAL & KIRSTEN DUNST

They were the It Couple of 2002, but while Jake and Kirsten's highly publicised relationship just wasn't meant to be, the pair seemed to have a good time while it lasted!

"We had sex in cars, in the bathroom and even by the sea,"

Jake, 39, spills of his two-year romance with the actress, 37.

ANTHONY KIEDIS & MEL C

It might have been just a summer fling, but Melanie Chisholm – aka Sporty Spice – says this relationship inspired one of the Red Hot Chili Peppers' bangers. "Anthony wrote Emit Remmus – which is 'summertime' backwards – after we met," the singer shares. "It's on their Californication album." Who knew?!

EVAN RACHEL WOOD & MARILYN MANSON

The Westworld actress was just 18 when she hooked up with the eccentric rocker – who was 36 at the time and still married to his burlesque dancer wife, Dita Von Teese. "I was craving danger and excitement," Evan, now 32, says about her three years with the 51-year-old Tainted Love singer.

MILA KUNIS & MACAULAY CULKIN

"We grew up together," Mila has previously said of her low-key eight-year romance with Mac, 39. "You find a steady rock in your life and that's all you need." But despite their representatives insisting their 2011 split was amicable, now the actress, 36, admits it was "a horrible, horrible break-up" and that she "fked up". Yikes!

Tom vs J.Lo

BATTLE OF THE DIVAS!

Scientology is to blame for their bruised friendship!

Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned and a simmering

Jennifer Lopez is quietly plotting her revenge on Tom Cruise after discovering it was the Hollywood, er, Top Gun who blocked her chances of an Oscar. Reow!

We're told the 50-year-old mum-of-two has just uncovered a secret campaign that the devoted Scientologist, 57, ran in order to stop her receiving a nomination for her role in Hustlers and sink her acting career.

"Whatever he did, it worked," whispers a pal. "It was the biggest snub of the year – it just didn't make sense. But now we know why. The rumours are all over town that Tom was behind it and Jen's absolutely seething."

There's no doubt the Cocktail legend made things very uncomfortable for Jen during awards season. "Tom's the reason she stormed out of the CAA party," adds the friend. "When he arrived, everyone started ignoring her. She wasn't going to take it – and she also didn't want a run-in with him after that awkward scene at his wedding to Katie Holmes."

In Leah Remini's book Troublemaker, Jennifer's Second Act co-star reveals how she was ordered by Scientology bosses to invite her bestie J.Lo to Tom and Katie's 2006 wedding in an attempt to recruit her into the cult.

"But there's no way Jen would ever join Scientology," says our insider. "She's been estranged from her father David for years because he's very high up in it. Her refusal to join has caused a huge rift between them."

The wedding revelation made Tom look bad, which put J.Lo on his blacklist, but the On The Floor singer didn't think he'd hold a grudge this long.

"It's pathetic," sighs her pal. "Jen really couldn't care less about that crazy cult, but when it starts messing with her money and her career, it's time to take the earrings off!

"She knows Tom's got a lot riding on the Top Gun remake, so she's going to start spinning up some dirt to throw his way. A nicely timed joint interview with Leah could be just the ticket – all she has to do is dredge up the past and mention the wedding."

HE'S BATTLING BIEBER TOO!

Justin Bieber is still running his mouth about being able to beat Tom in a fight, telling James Corden recently, "He's not the guy you see in movies. My agility is insane – he's an actor!" And the veteran star isn't happy about it, issuing Biebs, 25, with a strongly worded legal letter to make him shut up. We're told, "Tom's insurance won't let him fight and Justin's challenge is going viral, which makes him look like a scaredy cat. It had to be shut down. Tom can't have his image being undermined."

Jacqui married her Survivor buddies Mark and Sam...

Jacqui tells

'MY SE LIFE'

This badass fifty-something dishes on her alter ego!

So far, Byron Bay marriage celebrant Jacqui Patterson has flown under the radar on Australian Survivor: All Stars – but this week, the 52-year-old is set to bring it.

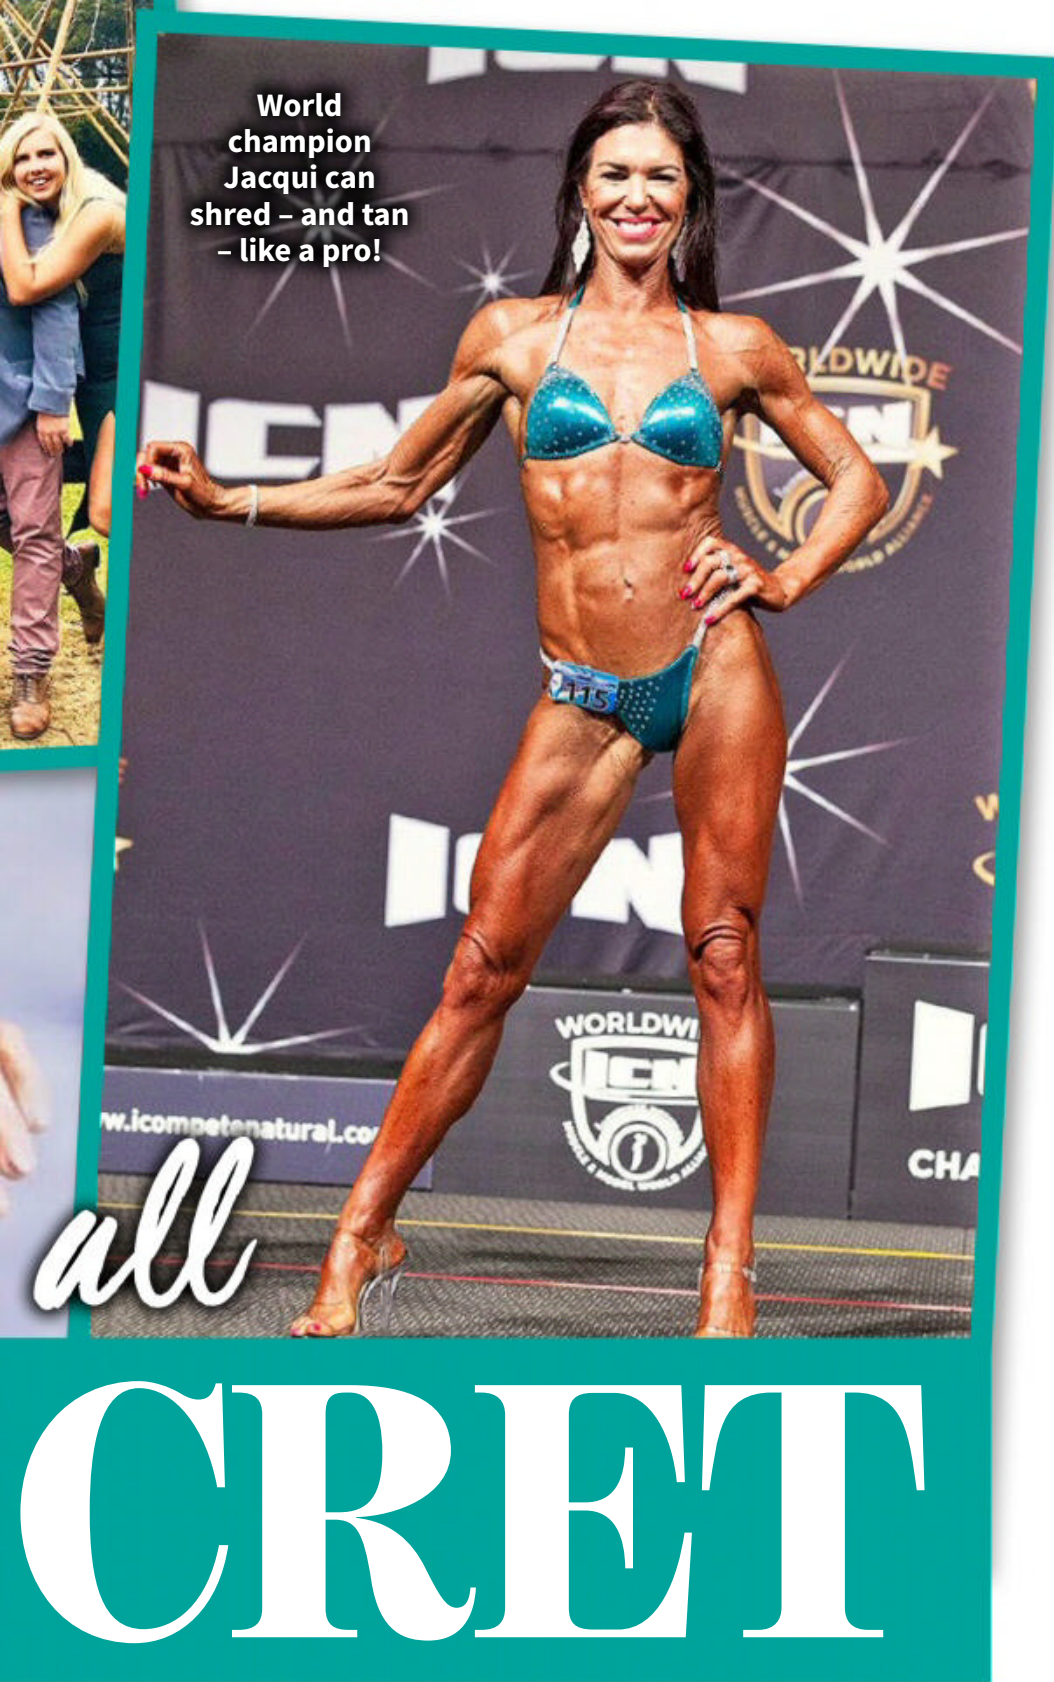

"You never want to be a goat [follower] on Survivor," she says. "If you coast to the end on other players' coattails, you might as well go home in the first week." Sing it, sister!

Jacqui's also bringing a secret weapon into the game – she's a world champion body builder! I mean, we kinda guessed, thanks to her massive muscles, but the strength and discipline she's developed is going to help her smash it in Fiji, she says.

Jacqui, you are beyond ripped – what's the story?

After I competed on Survivor in 2017, I'd messed up my shoulder. Then it was discovered I had a grade four melanoma, which was caught just in time. When I was recovering from operations for both, I thought, “Why not get into my best-ever shape?” Because losing mobility and then having cancer really make you think about how important your health is. I got a trainer and then I got into I Compete Natural [ICN] body building. The tiny bikini, high heels and tan thing?

Yep! I compete in the “fitness” category and actually won my first over-50s ICN World Championship in 2018. So if I can give up Champagne and shred to win that, I figure I can win Survivor. We hear you’ve also married some of your Survivor fam too? Yes, even though I voted Mark Wales and Samantha Gash off during my season, they asked me to be their marriage celebrant last year. During the ceremony, I held up a ballot paper voting that they “stay” together! What’s tougher – tribal council or a comp shred?

This old bird can handle both. Just because you’re in your 50s doesn’t mean you sit around and fking knit!

RISE OF THE GODDAUGHTER!

Even though her ally Mat “The Godfather” Rogers has been sent packing, All-Star Moana Hope is stepping up to take his place. “Nobody knows what I’m capable of – but they’re going to find out,” Mo, 32, tells NW. “Because I was so sick when I competed in 2018, I’ve been underestimated.”

A determined-to-prove-herself Mo returned to Fiji just three days after she married the “love of my life”, Isabella Carlstrom. That’s dedication! “It was pretty hectic,” admits the former AFLW star. “But Bel knew I had to go back and finish what I’d started.”

The pair met in 2017 and wed last year. “Our connection was instant,” Mo has said. For now, though, she’s about connecting with a Survivor win, saying, “I won’t let anything stop me getting what I want!”

Mo left new wife Isabella at home to play Survivor

Dead weird!

GRAVE FEARS

for Nic

I'm just so dead-icated!

The actor is already planning
his exit strategy...

New Orleans is the US capital of all things voodoo and spooky, but even locals have decided actor Nicolas Cage is a little too strange for their tastes!

The Ghost Rider star, 56, was spotted on a date with a mystery woman at the St Louis Cemetery, where they visited the 3m-tall pyramid-shaped tomb – emblazoned with the Latin for “Everything from One” – which he’d had built 10 years ago to prep for his eventual demise.

“It was odd... He was tenderly holding her hand and showing her around,” a witness tells NW. “He seemed to treat it as a date. Nic’s a weird dude who’s obsessed with death. He was probably promising the woman could be buried there alongside him.”

Nic’s freaky relationship with New Orleans spans back to when he bought, then swiftly sold, the infamous LaLaurie Mansion, the most haunted house in town, which he claims has left him cursed.

“He bought the tomb as a way to ward off the evil spirits in the afterlife,” insists a local. “His grave is next to Marie Laveau’s. She was an 1800s voodoo practitioner and everyone around here thinks she’ll be able to protect him when he crosses over. It might sound crazy, but a lot of people around here believe in that st.” ■

Kimmy K is ready to get down with Posh Spice!

Telly viewers of the world, prepare to spice up your lives – because unlikely new BFFs Kim Kardashian and Victoria Beckham have joined forces for a superstar reality show!

Yep, the fashion-obsessed celebs have crossed paths on several occasions previously, but they seriously bonded over a few cocktails when Keeks attended the launch of Posh's new beauty line in London last November.

"They hit it off moaning about their husbands," a source close to the former Spice Girl tells NW. "They cracked each other up with their dry jokes and Kim decided they had the perfect material for a new reality series. Vic's eyes lit up at the mere mention – she's tried to launch her own shows so many times, but they always bombed. With Kim and her telly pedigree, this is a shoo-in. Plus with her clothing label so deep in the red, she needed another project."

And it couldn't have come at a better time for Kim, 39, with both her Keeping Up With The Kardashians co-stars Kourtney and

"This is a lifeline for Kim," says our source. "Her and Vic know that it has to be juicy stuff, and with David launching a soccer team in Miami, they've decided it's the perfect location – sunny, sexy and sandy. Kim also likes the idea of reliving her youth on the party scene, plus Kanye is all for it as it gives him a chance to expand his church into Florida. Meanwhile, Victoria secretly likes the idea of being closer to David to keep an eye on him around all those bikini-clad girls by pools!"

Another source adds that the reality

– was spawned after they bonded over their marital woes.

We're told, "They really have a lot in common – they both work hard to maintain their family brands. Vic's actually been leaning on Kim a lot. She often feels her time with David has to fit around his schedule, which is something Kim can relate to."

Scar-Jo's fairytale

My big, fat

Disney wedding!

And Scar-Jo and Colin lived happily ever after...

Scarlett Johansson and her fiancé Colin Jost are planning a magical Disney-themed big day after putting her six-year-old daughter Rose in charge as wedding planner!

Pals say the Black Widow actress, 35, and the Saturday Night Live comedian, 37, are "thrilled" with Rose's idea of having the ceremony at The Happiest Place on Earth – after all, they've already got annual passes to Disney theme parks in California, Florida and Paris!

Colin's little brother Casey has said that the pair are so hooked, there will likely only be Mickey Mouse merchandise on their gift registry, adding, "They're both Disney-heads. They like Disney World and Disneyland."

Meanwhile, Rose is reportedly taking her role "very seriously", insisting Scar-Jo wear a Cinderella-style gown, with her future stepdad in full Prince Charming costume.

The ceremony will likely happen in the Cinderella Castle Suite in Orlando, with a family friend explaining, "They've stayed there before and it's Rose's favourite place in the world."

The couple are aiming to tie the knot in May and friends think Colin has what it takes to get past Scarlett's "three-year marriage itch", which saw her ditch ex-husbands Ryan Reynolds and Romain Dauriac after the 36-month mark.

"They've known each other almost a decade, so they became friends first," adds the insider. "Scarlett often says Colin's what would happen if you took the best of her exes and made the perfect guy – he makes her laugh like Ryan and he turns her on like Romain. And Rose is just as in love as Scarlett is."

Sounds like a happy ending to us! ■

Your wish is my command!

FIT FOR A PRINCESS!

The Cinderella Castle Suite – which can only be booked by invitation – is rumoured to cost over $60K per night and each guest is given a glass slipper to commemorate their stay. Fancy!

LEO'S SHOTGUN CEREMONY

Sorry, ladies – Hollywood's most eligible bachelor is reportedly off the market, with rumours emerging that Leonardo DiCaprio secretly got hitched to Camila Morrone just before the Oscars.

After two years of dating, we hear the pair exchanged vows on a private island in the Bahamas – and buzz is that the much-younger model-turned-actress, 22, could be up the duff!

"Camila and Leo have been hinting that they're trying," reports a close source. "Camila can't wait to be a mum and Leo's fully ready to be a father. He's said he can see himself with three or four little ones."

While model magnet Leo, 45, has been reluctant to tie the knot in the past, his Once Upon A Time In... Hollywood co-star Brad Pitt apparently encouraged him to make it official, telling him, "You're not getting any younger." Harsh, but fair!

KATE'S GOT THE EX FACTOR!

After losing 11kg of post-baby blubber, Kate Hudson is finally ready to wed musician Danny Fujikawa – and the Almost Famous actress wants to make her big day a reunion of rock royalty!

We're told the star, 40, who welcomed daughter Rani 17 months ago, has asked her two previous babydaddies, Black Crowes frontman Chris Robinson and Muse singer Matt Bellamy, to perform at the reception with Danny, 33.

"She bugs them all the time to get together and make music, and she's said she could never get married without having her exes there," spills a pal. "She thinks it'd be wonderful for the whole family. She'd get a kick out of it." Er, rock on then!

WTF?! 🤔

Celebs do the strangest things...

This st is bananas!

BUBLE'S BIGGEST FANS ARE GORILLAS!

Michael Buble wasn't monkeying around when he recently came face to face with his biggest fans – three gorillas at the Werribee Open Range Zoo in Victoria!

"Apparently when they go to bed at night, they play them my Christmas music," Buble, 44, enthused in a video, before showcasing his dulcet tones by putting on a beast of a show for the furry creatures.

Fangirling over their "amazing reactions" to his tunes, Michael added, "They're just so aware of everything and understanding!"

The creatures' keeper explains that the Canadian crooner's "beautiful, low tones mimic the gorillas' pleasure grumbles". Ape-solutely amazing!

JOSH THINKS HE'S TOO HANDSOME FOR HOLLYWOOD!

Transformers star Josh Duhamel's hunky appearance is both a blessing and a curse. "A lot of guys would kill for his looks, but Josh whines that he's 'too pretty' to be taken seriously," spills an insider of the 47-year-old's Tinseltown woes.

Though his modelling background helped him break into showbiz, it's apparently prevented him from obtaining coveted roles.

In the past year, his resume has consisted mostly of one-episode guest spots and his latest show – playing a cheesy superhero in the Netflix series Jupiter's Legacy – isn't exactly the type of gig that gets critics' attention.

A frustrated Josh has griped it's "sexism in reverse" and our insider adds, "The way Josh tells it, he's had to resort to taking roles he thinks are beneath him. He's putting up with it to stay relevant, but he's not satisfied." How brave!

Bae better watch his back!

PAM'S EX IS ENGAGED... JUST THREE WEEKS AFTER THEIR SPLIT!

Well, that was quick! Pamela Anderson's ex-husband of less than a month, Jon Peters, has gotten engaged a mere 21 days following their break-up. The 74-year-old is set to tie the knot with rising actress Julia Bernheim, 34, who he was actually dating just before Pammy. Er, awkward!

Needless to say, Jon should have stuck it out with Julia the first time round as things with Pam, 52, didn't go down too well. The pair's shock split was one thing, but that aftermath has been pretty painful too. The bombshell recently lashed out at the film producer after he claimed that he helped her pay off her substantial debt during their brief marriage.

"I don't need anyone to pay my bills!" Pammy vented. "I own a $10 million house in Malibu that's been rented for almost two years now – and for the next three to five years – for $40,000 month. That more than covers all my bills!"

And with the TV beauty reported to be back in touch with her former lover Julian Assange, Jon (who has now been married five times) is giving it a second shot with his very own former flame. Sixth time lucky, Jon?

TOM CLIMBED A FENCE TO CRASH KATE'S BASH!

Uninvited? Not on Tom Cruise's watch. Long before he was scaling buildings and jumping out of helicopters, the action man was crashing parties!

Talking to Ellen DeGeneres about the bashes she used to throw in her younger, pre-fame years, Kate Hudson, now 40, hilariously recalled the moment the 57-year-old Top Gun actor once, er, cruised into her party unannounced.

"I see someone scaling an 8ft [2.4m] gate at my parents' house," Goldie Hawn's daughter revealed. "I'm freaking out and this person then does a back hand-spring thing. I'm about to yell at this guy... and it's Tom Cruise."

Guess he felt the need, the need to party hard!

What's new, Pussycat?

Don't cha wish ya could pull off a sexy pirate costume like Nicole Scherzinger? The singer reunites with the Pussycat Dolls to smash out a gig at G-A-Y club in London – a whopping 14 years after the girl gang played their very first UK live show there. Whaaat?! Someone needs to update Nic's skin ASAP because she clearly hasn't aged a day.

My fishnets catch your eye?

Holy Muses, Jennifer!

Dude, is that Stifler's Mom? American Pie star Jennifer Coolidge has taken on a new iconic role – as Honorary Muse in the all-female Muses parade for Mardi Gras! “I’m so flattered to be chosen,” says Jen, who took to throwing beads at the New Orleans crowd while sat in a shoe like an absolute pro. Go, girl!

Imagine: You're at the Hugo Boss show for Milan Fashion Week – what's your first move? Well, for Orlando Bloom, it's planting an incredibly awkward kiss on his Carnival Row co-star Cara Delevingne, but the soggy smooch ain't no match for Orly's pooch Mighty, who steals the spotlight (and our hearts) just by turning up!

Let them eat cake!

Life truly is a cakewalk – er, we mean catwalk – for Bella Hadid, who joins sister Gigi Hadid and model mate Kaia Gerber on Moschino's Milan runway to strut the label's Marie Antoinette-inspired range. Mixing 18th century Paris with a punk-rock, thigh-high boot twist, we just hope the models don't lose their heads under the those towering hairdos!

Olivia Culpo

The easy-as-hack that could help you shred those kilos...

Let's face it, losing weight can be seriously hard work. The cravings and hunger pangs are tough enough, but that's not even considering the other painstaking tasks you're often expected to accomplish – from meal planning to logging calories to timing every meal.

But what if you could slash inches from your waist by following one incredibly simple rule? All you have to do is drop 300 calories from your diet each day and you could shed 7kg. There are no other rules. And you may enjoy other benefits, too, including better sleep, a happier mood and less risk of heart disease.

In the US, a study of 200 participants found that people who cut 300 calories out of their diet lost around 10 percent of their body weight in two years. That's around the equivalent of a large chai latte, a cupcake or a regular helping of potato wedges.

Not only did they keep the weight off, they found their diet easy to maintain – and that's without any hunger pains or mood swings.

So how do you drop 300 calories? For some people it might be as easy as skipping morning tea. Or there may be sneaky ways to cut back those calories over the day. If you swap toasted for raw muesli at brekkie, switch from Turkish to a regular sandwich at lunch and cut back on the cooking oil at dinner, you're likely to be well on your way.

In fact it seems so simple, it's easy to wonder why we aren't all doing this already? The problem often lies in those hidden calories we barely notice we're consuming, from oversized portions to hidden sugars in processed foods.

While you probably don't feel like assessing everything you eat, an easy way to crowd out unhealthy portions is to up your fruit and vegie intake. Keep an eye on ingredients labels, and remember it takes up to 20 minutes for our bodies to register that we're actually full.

It's also a good idea to slow down eating – or try this trick that Kaley Cuoco uses whenever she orders a tuna wrap for lunch. "My trick is to cut it in half, eat one half with the wrap and then, if I'm still hungry, have the other half without," she explains. "It totally fills me up."

RIES day!

Ginger and lemongrass roast chicken

Serves: 4

Ingredients

- 1 lemongrass stalk, white part only, finely chopped
- 2 tsp chilli paste
- 3 tsp finely grated ginger
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 1 tbsp olive oil
- 500g lean chicken breast fillets
- 2 zucchini, sliced
- 2 carrots, sliced
- 300g cauliflower, cut into florets
- 1 x 400g tin chickpeas, drained and rinsed
- 2 tsp sesame seeds, toasted
- 80g mixed salad leaves

Method

1. Preheat the oven to 190°C (170°C fan-forced). Line a large baking tray with baking paper.

2. Combine the lemongrass, chilli paste, ginger, garlic and 1 tsp olive oil in a small bowl. Place the chicken on the prepared tray and evenly spread with the paste mix.

3. Toss the zucchini, carrot, cauliflower and chickpeas with the remaining oil, and arrange around the chicken. Season with freshly ground black pepper. Roast for 30-40 mins or until the chicken is cooked through and the vegetables are tender and lightly golden.

4. Thickly slice the chicken. Divide the chicken and vegetables among plates and sprinkle with the sesame seeds. Serve with the salad leaves on the side.

Handy hint

Your ultimate rules of thumb for portion control

PASTA

Serves of high-carb foods like pasta should be the size of a clenched fist.

ICE CREAM

A double serve of ice-cream should be the size of your fist – or half for a standard serve.

PEANUT BUTTER

Keep serves to around a tablespoon, or about the size of two thumb tips.

BUTTER

A serve of butter is a teaspoon, around the size of your fingertip.

MEAT

The recommended serve is around 85g, approximately the size of your palm.

CHEESE

One portion should be around the size of two fingers.

Ginger and sesame seed logs

Makes: 26

Prep + cook time: 15 mins
+ refrigeration

Ingredients

- 1 cup walnuts
- 1 cup macadamias
- 1 cup rolled oats
- 400g fresh medjool dates, pitted
- 1½ tsp ground ginger
- ½ tsp sea salt
- ½ cup sesame seeds

Method

1. Process nuts and oats in a food processor until finely chopped. Add dates, ginger and salt; process until mixture forms a paste.
2. Shape level tbsp of mixture into 5cm long logs. Place on a paper-lined oven tray. Refrigerate for 15 mins.
3. Meanwhile, stir sesame seeds in a frying pan over medium heat for 2 mins or until lightly toasted. Cool.
4. Roll logs in sesame seeds, place on a tray. Refrigerate for 2 hours.
5. Store logs in an airtight container in the fridge for up to 2 weeks or freeze for up to 3 months.

Tip

Medjool dates are available from the fresh food section of supermarkets.

Raw Turkish delight bark

Serves: 10

Prep time: 10 mins
+ refrigeration

Ingredients

- 1 cup coconut oil
- ½ cup cacao powder
- pinch sea salt
- ⅓ cup rice malt syrup
- ⅓ cup coarsely chopped raw almonds
- ⅓ cup dried cherries
- ¼ cup dried edible rose petals

Method

1. Grease a 20cm x 30cm slice pan. Line base with baking paper.
2. Whisk oil, sifted cacao and salt in a medium bowl until combined. Gradually add syrup, whisking to combine.
3. Spread mixture evenly into pan, sprinkle with almonds, cherries and rose petals. Refrigerate until set. Break into shards to serve.

Tip

Don't worry if the bark has a slight whitish look to it – it's the coconut fat and won't affect the taste. Because of the low melting point of the coconut oil, the bark should be stored in the fridge or it will be too soft to handle.

ADRIANA LIMA

If you're partial to a sugary coffee to start the day, try Adriana's simple swap. The supermodel and mother-of-two says, "I cannot leave home without my coffee. I do coffee with honey because it stabilises the sugar levels." She adds, "If I have honey, I don't crave as much sugar later."

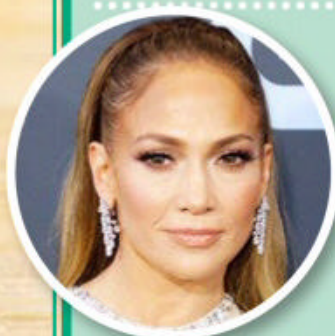

KATE HUDSON

The actress makes ice cream using only two ingredients: 450g strawberries and four bananas. The trick is to freeze the sliced fruits, then use a food processor to blend into a soft-serve consistency. Freeze for 3-4 hours and you'll have a refreshing, guilt-free dessert.

JENNIFER LOPEZ

It ain't easy looking as hot as J.Lo, but limiting sugar could be a start. The Hustlers star and her fiancé Alex Rodriguez embarked on a gruelling 10-day sugar- and carb-free challenge, and dealt with their sweet cravings by eating sugar-free jelly and plenty of fresh fruit.

Kylie Robertson ticks off the iconic San Fran and LA experiences you just can't miss!

SAN FRANCISCO

GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE

Want that picture-perfect postcard angle? Cross the bridge to get astonishing views – I didn't even mind that I looked like a tourist! Whether you bike, walk or drive over, it's definitely worth braving the elements, no matter the time of year.

PIER 39, FISHERMAN'S WHARF

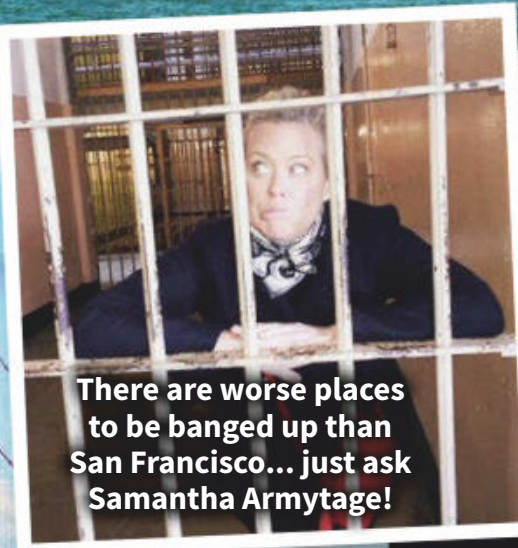

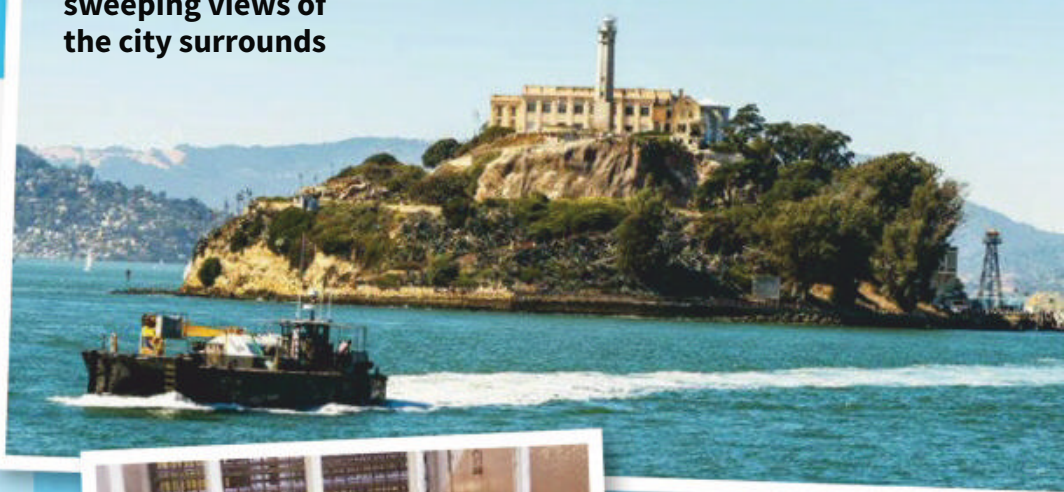

Shopping, restaurants and lots of entertainment are packed onto the legendary Pier 39. Head here for some of the best clam chowder bowls in the state and take in an entertaining break at the West Marina watching the iconic sea lions pile on top of each other as they vie for pole position.

ALCATRAZ

Jump on a ferry to America's most notorious former prison, Alcatraz (alcatraztickets.com). You can accomplish a lot in about three hours on this tour – a boat ride on the bay, breathtaking views of the city and the freedom to explore Alcatraz island at your own pace.

Alcatraz offers sweeping views of the city surrounds

There are worse places to be banged up than San Francisco... just ask Samantha Armytage!

PLAY Grab yourself a foam finger and a beer at a Golden State Warriors basketball game at the flashy new Chase Center (chasecenter.com/ticketinfo), or take in a spooky after-dark Ghost Tour. wildsftours.com/tour/haunted-san-francisco-ghost-tour

STAY Right in downtown SF, Hotel Emblem has vibrant guestrooms as well as complimentary snacks and sips in the hallways of each floor. viceroyhotelsandresorts.com/emblem

EAT You'll want to arrive hungry at Chicago-style Italian cuisine Capo's in North Beach! sfcapos.com

LOS ANGELES

DOWNTOWN LA

Grab a bite at Grand Central Market, but get there early to beat the lines. It's hard to choose just one meal, but my hot tip is to head straight to Eggslut (eggslut.com). Next, jump on a bike for a guided tour around the historic core of Downtown – a great way to see the hidden neighbourhood gems. handlebarbiketours.com

SUNSET HIKE AT GRIFFITH PARK

I'm not a hiker, but the stunning views from multiple angles (including a fun Hollywood sign photo op) got me to the top of Mount Hollywood and back still smiling. Book a tour to get schooled on the area while you work up a sweat. bikesandhikesla.com

SILVER LAKE

PLAY Book a bowling lane at The Spare Room in The Hollywood Roosevelt hotel (spareroomhollywood.com) – or head to the golf driving range at the midtown Aroma Spa & Sports for some epic sunset views. aromaresort.com

STAY If you're lucky, you'll get a great view of the Hollywood sign from your bed at Loews Hollywood (loewshotels.com/hollywood-hotel). Or hit up one of the city's longest-standing hotels, Hotel Figueroa, complete with quirky coffin-shaped pool. hotelfigueroa.com

EAT Grab brekkie at lifestyle hub ROW DTLA and check out all the funky little storefronts and restaurants popping up in the area (rowdtla.com). Or experience a Californian Asian fusion meal to die for at spectacular Yamashiro. yamashirohollywood.com

The practical things you can do to help rebuild Australia, one town at a time

There's not a single Australian who hasn't had their hearts broken by the horrific bushfires that have swept through our country. The road to rebuild will be long but as a nation we will: brick by brick, fence by fence. Bauer Media launched this campaign to help our neighbours in their time of need.

Each week we will shine a spotlight on a town telling our generous readers how they can help, from the best fundraisers to donate to that specifically benefit the locals, to products they can buy from that town or region that support small businesses there. We'll highlight the farmers who need fencing supplies, the schools which are short of books and pencils, the yoga school that needs mats or how to plan a getaway to the region when the time is right to bolster their local tourism industry.

The Rebuild Our Towns campaign is centred on the fact that practical help doesn't have to cost a fortune. Our love and thoughts go out to every person, but actions speak louder than words, so join us to make a difference and help our heartland heal.

Go to rebuildourtowns.com.au and watch as we move from one town to another over the coming months

Jessica Biel
March 3, 1982

This is no time to be timid – and Piscean Jess will have to suck it up and stand out if she wants to wrangle a big opportunity this week!

YOUR Stars

The week ahead with Adele Lang

Pisces FEB 20 – MAR 20

Try to be more proactive this week, please. That's easier said than done, of course, but Mars signals unhappy outcomes for all typically shy Pisceans who refuse to put themselves forward for a brilliant job interview or a super-hot date!

Aries MAR 21 – APRIL 20

This week, Venus should bring at least one rather promising financial opportunity. Providing you pitch it well, friends or family members might be willing to back a bright idea of yours. Any kind of joint venture set up now bodes well for the future.

Taurus APRIL 21 – MAY 21

Obsessing over perceived social slights could prove bad for your emotional health. According to planetary patterns, continually moaning to mates might end up driving them away. Take an upbeat stance instead and watch those invites come rolling in!

Gemini MAY 22 – JUNE 21

With Jupiter now travelling with Pluto, romantic affairs could become a bit too intense. While you adore being the object of someone else's (very passionate) affections, consider slowing things down – especially if you are in a new relationship.

Cancer JUNE 22 – JULY 23

Uranus predicts some sort of family feud over the next seven days. Fortunately, you won't be directly involved. Well, not at this stage, anyway! Although it would be quite tempting to take sides, try to sit on the fence for as long as you possibly can...

Leo JULY 24 – AUG 23

Scrutinise your financial affairs very carefully this week as Mercury's retrograde suggests something could be seriously amiss. No need to panic, though, as any discrepancies you come across can be easily rectified in a short period of time.

Virgo AUG 24 – SEPT 23

Your health planet Uranus signals that group endeavours are more likely to suit your present – and inward-looking – state of mind. Certainly, they'll be preferable to one-to-one catch-ups that will only encourage you to shut out the rest of the world.

Libra SEPT 24 – OCT 23

Much as you might be yearning for a deeper, more meaningful romantic relationship, Venus urges you to be realistic. Not every partner or suitor is capable of baring his or her soul. If you can't cope with that, then perhaps it's time to move on!

Scorpio OCT 24 – NOV 22

Solar activity in your chart should help you immensely if you're looking for job satisfaction – and even better, you won't have to switch careers to feel better about work! For instant results, try talking more to your present employers and colleagues.

Sagittarius NOV 23 – DEC 21

Although you're renowned for your generosity, your ruler Jupiter wants you to show a little more financial restraint. Certain folk in your midst are taking advantage at present. "Forget" to bring your purse along and you'll soon find out who they are.

Capricorn DEC 22 – JAN 20

Hold off making any major decisions regarding your health or work. Until Mercury starts moving forward early next week, you're unlikely to be completely clued up about what's going on. In the meantime, seek advice from outside sources.

Aquarius JAN 21 – FEB 19

Any Aquarian seeking a suitor should think about signing up for a regular weekday evening class or a one-off weekend workshop. Your love planet, the Sun, firmly believes a new educational pursuit will broaden your mind in more ways than one...

SCHITT'S CREEK

CATHERINE BIDS US
ADIEU... SOB!

With the final sixth season on its way, Catherine O'Hara is panicking about the end of her hit series Schitt's Creek. "Nothing will top this for me!" the veteran actress cries. And who could blame her!? For five years, the 65-year-old has been sending fans (NW-ettes included) into hysterics as Moira Rose, former soap opera star and dramatic matriarch of the Rose family.

Here, the very glam Catherine tells NW just why it's so hard to let go of her equally fab alter ego and dishes about the beloved sitcom's most famous fan...

We're soooo upset Schitt's Creek is ending! What will you miss the most? I'll miss working in Toronto – I'm from there. I'll also miss the great crew we had. CBC [Canadian Broadcasting Corporation] were great at giving my co-stars and the show's creators, Daniel and Eugene Levy, the freedom to make the show they wanted to make. I don't know why more people don't do that!

You and Eugene go way back to the '70s! You must enjoy working with him... It's lovely! When we work together, it's really all about the work. Even if you have a disagreement, you know everyone's trying to make the project the best it can be. We have some lovely fans too – Nicole Kidman came up to me at an event and just kept talking about our show!

Our jealousy over Moira's wardrobe is real. What has been your fave thing to wear? We were evacuated in the Getty Fire last year in LA, and I kept running back in the house for passports, pics and all the things you're supposed to grab... but then I kept running by this rack of Moira's clothes. I finally just grabbed some items of hers too – including seven Givenchy heeled booties. I was so happy I had them!

Your 66th birthday is very soon! Not only are you looking incredible but your career is hotter than ever... There are a lot of older women working – thank goodness – but I've gotten to do this show for six seasons, be ridiculous and funny, and wear a great wardrobe. I feel so lucky.

The sixth and final season of Schitt's Creek will air on Netflix later this year

MOTHERLESS BROOKLYN

A 1950s WHODUNNIT!

► PLOT: Edward Norton plays Lionel Essrog, a lonely private detective with Tourette syndrome who sets out to solve the murder of his mentor and only friend in 1950s New York.

► WHAT'S HOT: Based on a 1999 book of the same name, it has taken director, writer and star Edward 20 years to get this project to the big screen. He's also joined by rising talent Gugu Mbatha-Raw, whose character Laura Rose helps Lionel crack the case.

■ WHAT'S NOT: While we were impressed, the flick has received mixed reviews since its release in the US. But don't let that turn you off – this one will tug at the heartstrings!

THE WAY BACK

BEN DIGS DEEP

It undoubtedly takes a lot of strength for an actor to step into a storyline that mirrors their own life, but Ben Affleck says playing Jack Cunningham – a high-school basketball coach whose battle with alcohol destroys his marriage and sends him to rehab – was actually “liberating”.

The star, 47, whose marriage to Jennifer Garner saw its own demise due to his addiction issues, explains that the benefits of making The Way Back “far outweighed the risks” of touching on such a personal subject. “It was very therapeutic,” he admits.

Here, Ben shares his thoughts on alcohol and substance abuse, and also explains why he left the iconic Batman franchise behind him...

Could you relate to your character Jack's struggles?

He makes a lot of mistakes – he's not perfect – but no-one is. It was very liberating, a form of therapy for me in this case, and some scenes were easy for me because I'm an alcoholic.

The subject of addiction is very raw in this film. How did you convey this? You're trying to make yourself feel better with eating, drinking, sex, gambling, shopping or whatever – but that ends up making your life worse. Then you do more of it to make that discomfort go away. Then the real pain starts. It becomes a vicious cycle you can't break. That's what happened to me.

Is there a part of this story that really resonated with you? My favourite scene in this movie – and this is a little bit of a spoiler – is where my character loses his job. It's about consequences. You understand how desperate he is to not have to suffer those consequences and how painful that can be. You aren't working on the Batman films anymore, why? I kind of lost my passion for telling those stories. I got interested in telling stories more like this and it just seemed very clear to me that if it's not the most important thing in the world to you, you're not going to make a very good movie. The film deserves to be made by someone who's dying to do it – and that wasn't me.

JACK VIDGEN THE DIAR

He's got a talent for reality TV – next he'll be singing for his supper in the Big Brother house!

I'll bring back the bum dance!

If you can remember Sara-Marie Fedele's iconic bum dance or the infamous turkey slap incident, then listen up! With Big Brother Australia returning to our screens this year, NW hears that Australia's Got Talent winner Jack Vidgen will be joining this season's housemates. Yaasss! And we hear the sweet-voiced singer is causing strife on set...

"They've only just begun filming and Jack's already being a bit of a diva," an on-set spy says, adding that although producers think he will be a crowd favourite, they do have their reservations.

"Everyone's worried that he may not be able to handle the experience and he's going to be hard to manage." Uh-oh!

Joining the Yes I Am singer, 23, our source says that we can expect to see some other familiar faces in the house too!

"The word is that Married At First Sight stars Nasser Sultan, Martha Kalifatidis and Michael Brunelli could appear – alongside former Big Brother housemate Chrissie Swan and Geordie Shore's Scotty T."

Meanwhile, it's been confirmed that Sonia Kruger will be returning to host the reboot. "I knew 2020 was revealed

DGEN TO Y ROOM!

Meet his roomies!

going to be a fantastic year, but hosting the big daddy of reality shows is icing on the cake," admits Sonia, 54.

And just to spice things up even more, Seven has revealed the show will look very different to previous seasons. There are new rules, a new house in Sydney's Manly (RIP the Goldie BB house!) and no live format.

"The game has changed," our insider admits. "The new show will be similar to Survivor, but in a warehouse." Here's hoping Jack – and the other celebs – can handle everything Big Brother chucks at them. Game on, moles!

SEX TAPE SCANDAL!

'It was borderline pornographic!'

Recently, NW exclusively revealed all the saucy details behind MKR: The Rivals contestants Lauren Matthews and Ben Key's kissing romp on the couch. But now we hear that a lot more action went down that night!

NW's on-set informant says there's a graphic video of their sexual encounter that was filmed by one of the show's producers and it's bordering on "pornographic" behaviour. OMG!

"They lied that they just fell asleep on the couch," the insider spills of Ben, 27, and Lauren, 35. "As soon as they realised they were being filmed, they were furious."

But that's not all – Ben then tried to smash the producer's camera. "He was outraged and threatened to punch him!" adds the source. "Things got heated." In more ways than one it seems. Yikes!

There’s no need for any Hairspray or Grease in John Travolta’s bathroom – he hasn’t got any need for it... and neither does his bald bestie, Pitbull! It was really like looking in a mirror when these two follically-challenged fellas got together recently. And not just cause they’re so shiny!

My twinny!

Sure is!

Biebs vs Cara

'SHE'S MY LEAST FAVE FRIEND!'

Things really kicked off between Justin Bieber and his wife Hailey's pal Cara Delevingne after an episode of Spill Your Guts Or Fill Your Guts recently. Host James Corden asked the singer to rank Hails' friends – Gigi Hadid, Kendall Jenner and Cara – from favourite to least, or he'd have to eat a bull's penis. Ew!

"I know Kendall the best," Biebs insisted, putting Gigi second and Cara in last place. But that didn't sit too well with the Brit model. "If you have nothing against me, then why don't you unblock me?" she clapped back on Insta. "Love you Hailey – he should have just eaten the bull penis." Burn!

It's to preserve the authenticity

Girl, that's nasty!

TYRA'S STINKY SWIMMERS

In 2007, Tyra Banks famously told her haters to "Kiss my fat ass!" while wearing a strapless one-piece cossie. Now the supermodel admits she hasn't washed it in 12 years. "Oh my god, it's still in the archive. And it still has like the oil and the sand in it," she says. "I did not wash it. I'm like, 'It's gonna stay stank and real.'" Erm, gross!

Oh, Keith!

Nic & Keith: Your future awaits!

It looks like Nicole Kidman and Keith Urban have been spending their free time playing around with FaceApp's "old" filter – except wait, no, it's Lust For Life rocker Iggy Pop and Blondie's Debbie Harry. LOL, you coulda fooled us, guys. Talk about taking a glimpse into the future!
